

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES FOR NEW BLOG SERIES

Solution Spaces: For People and Planet

OVERVIEW

The Global Solutions Initiative is collecting submissions for a new blog series: Solution Spaces: For People and Planet. Blogs will be flanked by additional formats, including longer articles, social media and multi-media formats such as a podcast.

- Audience: Educated, non-expert, general public
- Style: Accessible, high-quality prose, razor-sharp insights, jargon-free
- Frequency: Weekly (average; to be increased at key moments).
- Topics: All submissions should address collective approaches to multilateral challenges relevant to the G20, G7 and other international fora, as well as support the mission of GSI, which strives to “mobilize change to recouple economic progress with social and environmental prosperity.”
- General principle: Focus on concrete policy recommendations and possible solutions to global challenges

- Main text: max. 800 words
- Please refrain from using an overabundance of abbreviations or citations

About the Global Solutions Initiative (GSI)

The Global Solutions Initiative (GSI) works towards a global economic system that benefits people and planet. Rooted in research, GSI brings together policy, academia, civil society, and the private sector to generate insights for better global governance. Founded in 2017, the Berlin-based independent, non-profit organization annually convenes the Global Solutions Summit, which serves as a steppingstone to the G20 and G7 Summits. GSI is led by Dennis J. Snower, Markus Engels, and Christian Kastrop.

About the Global Solutions Summit

The Global Solutions Summit is the world's premier forum for transforming research into policy for the G7, G20 and beyond. It advances global economic, environmental, and social prosperity by connecting thought leaders and decisionmakers, visionaries and pragmatists from policy, academia, civil society, and the private sector. Held annually in Berlin, next year's conference will take place on May 5-6, 2025.
